All members shoot at their own target. Thus it is possible for you to submit a score to CHASA. The team's 4 targets will be scored by the range officers, no interaction of shooters and targets will take place. You may accompany the range officers to view your target. The 4 team member's individual targets will be scored and summed to arrive at the team score. 15 shots per individual team member are required.

An additional 20 gong targets (5 gongs on 4 ranges) will be shot in the quarry at know distances. Each team member will have to shoot 5 shots. The team will nominate who shoots which range. Targets will have to be shot in sequence with 1 shot per target. Make sure you know your 22LR's trajectory up to 120m.

In the event of a tied score, each team will nominate an individual shooter to shoot off at the furthest target with a minimum of 5 shots, highest score wins.

In the event of a dispute DRGC Committee will have the final and binding decision.
